

11 January 2022

A beautiful sunny Saturday saw a big crowd head down to the Brandon, with many of them setting their sights on a big round to get themselves into the Property Brokers Shootout Final. It was round 4 out of 5 and 63 players were trying to grab one of 19 places. Top score of the day however went to someone who is away when the final is on, Peter Walker shot 2 under par gross for a nett 65 and 43 points, great shooting Peter. We had 3 more players on 41 points, well done to Bruce Day, Wendy Parr and George Brown.

How does that leave the Shootout table, I hear you ask. Well with one qualifying round to go Big bad Bruce sits on the top with 78 points, closely followed by Chris Lovelock on 77 then Bev Chinn and Dave Robertson looking safe on 76. Heading down the list to 19th spot we find Pauly Greer sitting on 70 points, so by my reckoning as long as you have got at least one round in so far you should head down to the course on Saturday chuck in a 40 plus pointer and take your place in the final.

After Saturday's game we will know the finalists, a form guide may well be written and posted. An auction to sell the runners will be held and the big race will kick off on Sunday 30th January at 10am. This is always a great spectacle, well supported by big crowds and at the end of the day Bruce will win another club sub thanks to the great gang at Property brokers.

In other news the Harvey Norman Classic is filling up fast. Remember we can only guarantee entry to the first 100 fully paid up pairs. The Classic is on the 12th and 13th of February, but don't hang around, it will fill up, it will be an amazing two days, make sure you are part of it.

That will do for now, good golfing.
